Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2690027A1] The container (1) has support plate or pallet (5) and a belt (3) that is formed of a set of articulated panels (7) that is able to be deployed on the support plate on a loading volume of the container. The belt is vertically supported on the support plate with its lower edge (9) fixed to the support plate by a fixing element of the support plate. The fixing element includes a strap (15) that is interdependent of the support plate in two points. The belt is slidably connected to the strap by one of the set of panels.
