Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2690243A1] The container (1) has an enclosure (3) for receiving valuable articles (2). A positioning device (11) allows grouping and positioning the valuable articles in an event of improper handling, attempted break or theft detection. A deterioration unit (10) secures the valuable articles contained in the enclosure from deterioration or destruction of articles without making the articles unusable. The positioning device comprises an inflatable cushion (12) that is extended from an arrangement position in which the cushion is deflated to an operation position in which the cushion is inflated. The deterioration unit is a blade, punch, electronic slicer or guillotine.
