Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2012131058A1] The invention relates to a coupling body (32) for coupling a trough-like female form (24), which creates a trough section of a bottom part of a shaft (12) to be produced from concrete, to a holding device (22), the coupling body (32) comprising a fixing section (34) for fixing the coupling body (32) to the trough-like female form (24) and first coupling means (42) for magnetic coupling to a first counter-coupling means (52) of the holding device (22), the coupling body (32) also comprising second coupling means (48) for mechanical coupling to second counter-coupling means (54) of the holding device or another device.
