Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2012143286A1] The invention relates to a dishwasher, in particular a household dishwasher, comprising a dishwashing compartment, in the bottom region (3) of which a collecting pan (5) for dishwashing liquid is arranged, which is divided into a coarse dirt area (10) and a fine dirt area (13) with the aid of at least one screen. The dishwasher comprises a pump (18) which on the intake side is connected to the fine dirt area (13) and on the pressure side has a first outlet opening (19) for circulating dishwashing liquid and a second outlet opening (23) for pumping out dishwashing liquid. A closing device (24) is associated with the dishwasher for alternately closing the outlet openings (19, 23), wherein a drain pipe (25) is connected to the second outlet opening (23), a Venturi nozzle (27) which has a suction connection (28) that is connected to the coarse dirt area (10) being arranged in said discharge line.
