Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2703544A1] The dosing container (1) has multiple chambers (3,4,5), in which individual preparations are separately stored. A permeable partition (6,7) is arranged between the chambers and is impermeable in the storage condition of the dosing container for the preparations. The partition is permeable in the use condition of the dosing condition for the preparations. The partition is partially formed in a water-soluble manner. An independent claim is included for a method for dosing the cleaning agent in a household appliance.
