Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2712998A2] The device (11) has an actuator (12) that is coupled to a movable furniture portion. A stripping section is connected with a detection unit. A coupling device (15) is formed between the actuator and output gear (16). The detection unit causes the coupling device to assume a drive from the actuator to the coupling-off neutral position at end position of the output gear. An independent claim is included for a furniture.
