Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2012168020A1] The invention relates to a method for printing workpieces (4) comprising the following steps: feeding a workpiece (4) to at least one workpiece carrier (7); fixing the workpiece (4) to the workpiece carrier (7); delivering the workpiece (4) on the workpiece carrier (7) to a printer (14); measuring the delivery speed of the workpiece (4) on the workpiece carrier (7); and controlling the printing speed as a function of the measured delivery speed. As a result, it is possible to compensate for fluctuations in the actual delivery speed of the workpiece.
