Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2721967A1] The arrangement (10) has an engaging frame (11) i.e. structural backrest frame, including a latching unit (12) and a concealment groove (13). A cushion support (14) comprises counter-locking units (15) and a cushion mounting section (16). The cushion support is formed such that a cushion (17) is attached to the cushion mounting section in a pre-mounted state. The latching unit is locked with the counter-locking units. The cushion mounting section is externally concealed in the concealment groove. The cushion includes a foam component in a central complete cushion region of the support. Independent claims are also included for the following: (1) a seat furniture (2) an assembling method for manufacturing a cushion arrangement.
