Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2722081A1] The stop (3) has two tightening parts (7a, 7b) that are arranged in front of each other, where each tightening part is levelled with an end (11a, 11b) and a tightening pin (13a, 13b). The tightening parts are movable with regard to each other between a tightening position of a front end of a shoe in which the pins are brought closer, and an open position in which the pins are isolated so as to release the shoe. A movable stop (27) is directly related to the tightening parts so that a relative displacement of the parts involves swing of the stop between its active and retracted position.
