Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2728597A1] The device with a contact assembly (21) that is provided with a working contact (23) that is arranged between a changeover contact (24) and stationary contact (22). A closed contact surface (25) abuts against the contact surface (26) of the stationary contact. An operating contact surface (28) abuts against the contact surface (29) of the working contact. The contact surface of normally closed contact and working contact is formed as a counter-contact surface of the changeover contact in cross-contact structure corresponding to closed contact and operating contact surfaces.
