Abstract (en)

[origin: CA2840915A1] The invention relates to a method for handling (flat) articles (10), in particular hygiene products, such as nappies, sanitary towels or similar articles, wherein the articles (10) are fed in on a first feed conveyor (11) and are discharged as a compressed group (12) of articles (10) on a removal conveyor (14). The invention is characterised in that the feed conveyor (11) and the removal conveyor (14) are continuously driven and a group (13) of articles (10) is transferred from the continuously driven feed conveyor (11) to a continuously driven compressing device (16), in which the group (13) of articles (10) is compressed, and in that the compressed group (13) of articles (10) is transferred from the compressing device (16) onto the continuously driven removal conveyor (14).
