Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2730196A1] The device has a coupling unit (14) attached to a front part (12) and a side part (13). The coupling unit comprises a fastening latch and a retaining part (19). The latch is connected with the retaining part by a locking element (27) in a detachable manner such that the element is transferred to a locking position in which the element is held by loading force exerted by loading units. The element is moved from the locking position to a releasing position by counter force acting opposite to the loading force. A locking unit (32) inhibits rear movement of the element into the locking position.
