Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2735804A2] The door (10) has an outer pane and an inner pane where an adhesive portion (32) of a mounting bracket (30) is bonded with an outer pane and a carrier profile is supported at the inner pane. The carrier profile is secured at a displacement region of the mounting bracket. The displacement region is spaced opposite to the adhesive area by spacing bars (34-37). The carrier profile is releasable fastened with the mounting bracket made of a stainless steel metal sheet. The displacement region comprises a connection section for connection with the carrier profile.
