Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2013026580A1] The invention relates to a dispenser for dispensing pellets (16), in particular for dispensing sweetener tablets, comprising a housing (1) that has a storage chamber (22) from which the pellets (16) are separated into a separating chamber (13) of the dispenser and can be transported in the direction of a dispensing opening of the dispenser by means of a dispensing mechanism. The dispensing mechanism has a slide (3) which can be moved with a component in a perpendicular manner relative to a housing axis (5) that runs from bottom to top and which can be inserted into the housing (1) in order to produce the dispenser. The dispenser has a movable border (6) which forms a lower border for the slide (3) and which can be moved laterally out of a border starting position by applying a force, said starting position preventing the inserted slide (3) from being removed, in order to introduce the slide (3) into the housing (1) from below.
