Abstract (en)

A fur processing apparatus for, e.g., mink fur, with a scrape units arranged to remove fat and flesh of a leather side (i.e. flesh side) of a fur when placed on a mandrel which is then projected forward in its length direction. Operating parameters of the scraping process may be set. In particular, a "hard" operating mode may be provided for thorough scraping of a neck region of the fur at high pressure and low speed.
