Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2759790A2] A machine room of a refrigerator is disclosed. The machine room includes a defrost water tray to collect defrost water, a condenser installed at an upper side of the defrost water tray, an air blowing fan installed at one side of the condenser to generate air flow, and a guide part to guide air supplied from the air blowing fan, wherein the air blowing fan is disposed at an upper side of the defrost water tray, and the guide part is disposed between the condenser and air blowing fan to prevent a portion of the air flow supplied by the air blowing fan from moving to the defrost water tray.
