Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2013045942A2] The application relates to a package for smoking articles. The package comprises a cartridge unit in which articles are receivable, and a hinge unit attachable to the cartridge unit. The hinge unit is configured to enable the cartridge unit to move between a closed condition and an open condition when the hinge unit is attached to the cartridge unit. Therefore, articles received in the cartridge are accessible. The application also relates to a hinge unit for mounting to a cartridge unit containing smoking articles, a cartridge unit for containing smoking articles configured to be attached to a hinge unit, a smoking article holder for a package for smoking articles, a holder configured to hold a plurality of cartridge units, and a method of mounting smoking articles in a package for smoking articles.
