Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2762414A1] The labeling machine (100) has labeling units (105) that are arranged on the periphery of a labeling carousel (101) with interchangeable gripper cylinders (108). A lifting device (102) transports the machine components and other objects, particularly the gripper cylinders at the periphery of the labeling machine. The lifting device is arranged in a central position on an upper side of the labeling machine. The lifting device is designed as a manipulator that supports the lifting of goods. The lifting device comprises multiple lifting elements (107).
