Abstract (en)
An inkjet printing system includes a head unit (H) which ejects a liquid; a printing tray (70) which holds a recording medium (M2) in a positioning state; a transport mechanism (CV) which transports the printing tray to a printing position used by the head unit; and a guide unit (250) which guides a portion of the printing tray in a transport route of the transport mechanism. The printing tray holds the recording medium by using an adhesive.
