Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2769658A2] The vacuum cleaner has a dust collecting device (10), which has a dust collection container (12) and a cover (14) that closes at first side of the dust collection container. A bottom flap (16) is provided, which is closed at second side of the dust collection container and is pivotable to open the dust collection container. A coarse sediment bowl (22) is located inside the dust collection container and is vertically movable on a guide. An independent claim is included for a method for using a vacuum cleaner.
