Abstract (en)

[origin: CA2854394A1] The invention relates to a holding device for cards and/or tickets, containing a housing (2) which has a clip (4) and a base (6). The holding device is to be developed accordingly so that production is simplified, the aim being to ensure that individual or several cards and/or tickets are stored in a secure manner. The base (6) of the housing (2) that is open upwards towards the at least one clip (4) has side members (10, 12) that protrude upwards and that are arranged at a distance to each other, and the at least one clip, provided that no cards or tickets are placed in the housing (2), is located partially between the side members (10, 12) and extends with one free end (36) at least approximately as far as the base (6).
