Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2013072013A1] The invention relates to a device for applying preferably liquid flavourings (15), in particular menthol, to a medium (16), wherein the flavouring (15) can be fed from a (storage or processing) container (10) via at least one conduit (11, 13) to an applicator device (14). The invention is characterised in that the applicator device (14) has a controllable valve for application of the flavouring (15) onto the medium (16).
