Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2013072550A2] The invention relates to a method for manufacturing paper comprising fibril cellulose material, the method comprising introducing raw materials to a system, which raw materials comprise cellulose pulp (2) and fibril cellulose material (4), and conveying the raw materials to a paper machine (20) in order to produce a paper product comprising fibril cellulose material (4), wherein the fibril cellulose content of the produced paper is between 0.1 and 5 % of dry weight, preferably between 1 and 2 % of dry weight. In addition, the invention relates to a system for manufacturing paper and to a paper product.
