Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2783997A1] The one-way transport pallet (1) comprises a support element (2) having an upper side for supporting a load, which is formed opposite to the underside (6), and several feet (8) arranged on the underside of the support element. The support element is partially made of wood material, and the feet are made of plastic and are detachably mounted on the underside of the support element. The support element is coated with synthetic resin, in particular melamine resin.
