Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2013055240A1] A system 1 is disclosed for anchoring a securing device 14 in a bore in a substrate. The system comprises a rupturable container 2 for each of respective mixable components of the system 1, which containers 2 are rupturable together to mix the respective components. Means 8 are provided to hold the respective containers 2 substantially together to enhance mixing of the components when the containers 2 are ruptured.
