Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2013110119A1] A rod loader attachment (10) for loading an elongate rod or pipe (12). The attachment (10) comprises an elongate support member (14) designed to be positioned substantially parallel to a rod or pipe (12). A plurality of rod gripping units (16) is mounted at spaced intervals on the support member (14). Each rod gripping unit (16) comprises a pair of holding arms (18) for gripping the rod or pipe (12) between the holding arms (18). Each holding arm (18) in the rod gripping units (16) is independently activated by a spring actuator (24).
