Abstract (en)
Embodiments of the present application provide a folding chair, wherein a first waist-rest portion (123) and a second waist-rest portion (124) are additionally provided, and when the folding chair is unfolded, both of the waist-rest portions (123, 124) can fit a waist curve. In using, the folding chair is unfolded, and under the action of the first waist-rest portion (123) and the second waist-rest portion (124), a protruded portion is formed on the oxford cloth to properly support the waist of a user, so as to prevent the waist from concaving downward to a certain degree, thereby realizing the object of making the user feel more comfortable.
