Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2808176A1] A decorative structure (5) is described, comprising at least one supporting panel (1) having applied thereon one or more objects (2), such objects (2) being made of fabric, or fabric garments, or non-woven fabrics, or films made of paper or cardboard; these objects (2) are impregnated with at least one layer (4) of resins in order to transform the objects (2) into decorative elements (3) with three-dimensional bends and motives; the layer (4) of resins also operates as protection layer for the decorative elements (3), conferring the decorative elements (3) a suitable stiffness and endurance. A process for manufacturing this decorative structure (5) is also described.
