Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2013140062A1] A writing instrument having a movable protective sleeve. The writing instrument comprises a barrel extending according to a longitudinal axis and a tip mounted at the front of the barrel, and comprises a protective sleeve (2) movably mounted on the barrel (1) between a protective position in which the sleeve covers the tip and a retracted position in which it exposes the tip. The sleeve (2) comprises a helical cam engaging with a guide element of the barrel and comprises a detent element (21) capable of engaging with a retaining element (11) of the barrel so as to prevent the sleeve from being detached from the barrel. The writing instrument further comprises a locking element capable of engaging with one of said retaining element (11) and said detent element (21) so as to lock said protective position of the sleeve in rotation.
