Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2013156495A1] The invention relates to a plastic lid for a metal can comprising a liquid. Said lid comprises a cavity (20) receiving a neck (15) that can be folded down and secured to a wall section (21) of the cavity. The free end of the folded-down neck (15) compresses a wall (23) of the cavity and seals the can, closing an air intake slit (27) provided in an elastomer material (29).
