Abstract (en)
A left weight mounting part (16) and a right weight mounting part (17) are provided with rear ends of a left vertical plate (8) and a right vertical plate (9) of a main frame (6), and a placing plate (24) adapted to place a battery (29) thereon is provided between the left weight mounting part (16) and the right weight mounting part (17). An accommodating groove (25G) is provided in a counterweight (25) by notching, in a front-rear direction, a part that faces the placing plate (24) in an up-down direction. A space (26A) formed by the placing plate (24) and the accommodating groove (25G) can be configured as an article accommodating room (26) that accommodates the battery (29).
