Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014011125A1] This invention is a chair for performing the rituel prayers of Islam. The four part iron pipe feet (1), which are cut and keep up the chair, are joined to each other with screw and they can be opened and closed. The sitting area is made of stretching a piece of thick cloth (2) on the sitting part of the chair. The collapsible iron pipe (3), which can be heightened until the upright side of the chair, allows joining to a front tree board (4) by being compressed with a screw. The tree board (4) is affixed with the help of a screw to the edge side of the collapsible iron pipe (3), which is heightened to the upright side of the tree board (4) of the chair.
