Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2014012451A1] A pair of spectacles with an interchangeable decorative accessory (200) includes a main frame and at least one interchangeable decorative accessory, where the main frame includes a frame front (100) and at least a pair of temples (104, 105). The spectacles can be rimmed or rimless spectacles. In one embodiment, the decorative accessory is magnetically connected to at least one part of the main frame by a soft magnet. The decorative accessory includes a substrate (203) and a soft magnet (204), where the substrate and the soft magnet are bonded together by adhesion or welding. In another embodiment, the soft magnet is bonded with a substrate of the main frame by adhesion or welding while the decorative accessory comprising a magnetically attractable material can be magnetically connected to the main frame. An interchangeable decorative accessory for the spectacles is also provided.
