Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2014016792A1] The present invention relates to a section bar for the construction of furniture extending along a preferential longitudinal direction and comprising a main body (2, 9) wherein a first connection portion (3, 11) is defined, to allow the assembly of accessories for furniture, extending along said preferential longitudinal direction and having a substantially "C"-like shaped cross section which opens on a first outer surface of said main body (2, 9) and a first hooking portion (4, 13) developing outwardly the main body (2, 9) from a second outer surface of said main body (2, 9) opposite to said first outer surface, characterized by the fact that said connection portion (3, 11) has a cross section of asymmetric type having two small wings (33, 34) with different length defining a tolerance window (35). The invention further concerns a furniture item comprising at least four section bars of the type mentioned above.
