Abstract (en)
A collectibles display case (10) includes a durable frame (20), a front window (30), a rear window (60), and a placeholder. The front window (30) includes a picture-frame type transparent front securely attachable to a front inside location of the frame (20). The rear window (60) includes a transparent back window similar to and removably located opposite the front window (30). The placeholder includes a corresponding pair of flat, durable frame-shaped mats with exterior perimeters of the same shape as the frame (20). The pair of mats each has a central rectangular opening. The placeholder is securely and removably mounted within a middle portion of the frame (20) between the windows (30,60). The rectangular openings allow a packaged collectible having a thickness, such as a blister packed item to be "sandwiched" between the frame components and viewable housed between the windows (30,60).
