Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014026756A1] The invention relates to an integrated window pane (1) with a plastic profiled frame (2) comprising multiple cavities and with a flat element (3) which is received in the front face of the plastic profiled frame (2). The plastic profiled frame (2) has unreinforced profiled parts (25) and reinforcement components (24) made of fiber-reinforced plastic. The reinforcement components (4) made of fiber-reinforced plastic comprise at least partly unaligned fibers, and the plastic profiled frame (2) is formed as a coextrudate of the unreinforced profiled parts (25) and the reinforcement components (24). The invention further relates to a window which comprises a window frame (6) and at least one integrated window pane (1) according to the invention.
