Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014040926A1] The invention relates to the contacting of a launcher (1, 20, 30) that can have a modular construction. The problem addressed by the invention is that of allowing the electrical contacts (50, 5, 22, 32) between the ammunition (11) and the launcher- and/or trigger electronic system (4, 21, 31) to be disconnected simply and safely. To solve the problem, the closed modular electronic system (4, 21, 31) can be swung in or away.
