Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014040718A1] The invention relates to a coin with a disc-shaped coin body (1), which has a rim (4). To provide the coin with an additional security feature that is protected as far as possible from stresses and/or environmental influences, the rim (4) of the coin body (1) is provided with at least one recess (5), in which there is at least one luminescent substance (6). The invention also relates to a method for testing such a coin and a method for producing such a coin.
