Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014044391A1] The invention relates to a method for operating a crane having a luffing crane jib and a trolley which can be displaced on the crane jib, wherein the crane can be operated, on the one hand, in a luffing mode and, on the other hand, in a trolley mode. According to the invention the switch between a luffing mode and a trolley mode takes place by virtue of the hoist-rope reeving being altered. The invention also relates to such a crane for implementing the method.
