Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014040144A1] A rack (10) for holding cookware (66) on a cooktop (13) has a support rod (12) which is mounted on the cooktop by rod support stands (14, 16), and a ring shaped support member (18, 60, 62, 64) for cookware removably connected to the support rod by clips (24,26). The ring shaped support member has a support leg (36) which is mounted on the cooktop and is connected to the ring shaped support member such that the ring shaped support member is held in an elevated position over a heating element (17) of the cooktop. The ring shaped support member defines an opening (34) through which a vessel portion of cookware may be located.
