Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014094711A1] Folded dye and soil capture tissues for washing, cleaning and care of textile products such as clothing, bedlinen and the like are described, being produced from functionally activated nonwovens and provided within the folded region with solutions, emulsions or liquid dispersions comprising washing compositions and/or washing aids and/or washing care compositions. The tissues are finished by cutting or punching to the desired size. They feel substantially dry on the outside and contain 20 to 400% by weight of solvent, emulsifier or liquid dispersant; they can be packaged, stored and sold in large volumes in containers.
