Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014101954A1] The present invention proposes a domestic appliance having a boiling receptacle for boiling water, a brewing receptacle containing plant leaves to be brewed and a service receptacle into which brewed herbal beverage is transferred. Said service receptacle is placeable on top of said boiling receptacle in a removable manner. Further, said boiling receptacle being also removable provides that it can be individually used for serving hot water. Said service receptacle is kept warm on top of said boiling receptacle by an enhanced thermal communication.
