Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014106705A1] The subject of the present invention is an electrical pickup for a vehicle. The pickup comprises a box (112) provided with one or more safety mechanisms, which enable selective and safe automatic unplugging of the electrical conductors (121, 131, 141) in the pickup when a tensile force acts on the cable (150) linked to the pickup.
