Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014108388A1] The objective of the invention is to simplify the mounting of a pull-out system on a piece of furniture, said system comprising a pull-out element which can be withdrawn from said piece of furniture. To achieve this, a mounting element for the pull-out system is proposed, said element being connected to the piece of furniture when the pull-out system is mounted and comprising at least one positioning aid for locating a component of the pull-out system on a component of the piece of furniture.
