Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2014125074A1] The invention relates to a shoe (1) having a molded part (7) that is suitable as an arch support, the shoe (1) also having an opening (2) that is accessible from the exterior. The molded part (7) that is suitable as an arch support can be inserted into the opening (2) that is accessible from the exterior and is produced from polyurethane, polyethylene, polypropylene, polyvinyl chloride or mixtures of said substances. The molded part is disposed from the exterior between a removable insole and an insole and rests against the insole.
