Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2014154827A1] The invention concerns a support device (14) for supporting a bag (20) containing centrifuged material in a centrifuge container (12), the support device (14) comprising a resiliently elastic panel (16) which generates a restoring force owing to its deformation, the choice of material and dimensions of the panel (16) being selected such that at least resilient bending enabling the two ends to touch each other is possible.
