Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2014173493A1] The invention relates to a mop cover for cleaning surfaces, comprising a main body (1). The problem addressed by the invention is that of configuring and modifying a mop cover of the aforementioned type in such a way that the mop cover has an abrasive surface by which hairs and particles of dirt can be reliably picked up. The problem is solved in that flock material (3, 3a) is assigned to the main body (1), the flock material (3, 3a) being disposed on a surface (2) which can face a floor surface to be cleaned.
