Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3020650A1] The present invention is related to a cap assembly which is put over a mouth of a bottle, and an assembly method thereof, and provides a cap assembly which prevents an occurrence of misunderstanding when opening a cap initially and has good usability, and a method for assembling thereof. There are included an inner stopper 40 and a cap 50, and the inner stopper 40 and the cap 50 are assembled in a state in which a lid section 421 is received in a receiving section 52 and a protrusion section 53 is positioned below the lid section 421, and the lid section 421 is arranged at a position which is inside the receiving section 52 and has a space between an inner surface of a shell section 51 and the lid section 421, so that an occurrence of misunderstanding by torque changing before the inner stopper is opened is prevented.
