Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2015011156A1] The invention relates to a method for producing a one-piece upper (12), the upper being given a three-dimensional shape by knitting two knitted fabric layers (35, 37) such that they are connected to one another, and in that the outer knitted fabric layer (35) close to the upper exterior has a larger surface area than that of the inner knitted fabric layer (37) close to the upper interior.
