Abstract (en)

The present invention concerns a detachable brake element (1) for a paper dispenser. Said brake element comprises a braking surface (1a) and attachment means (1d). Characteristically said attachment means are suitable for detachably attaching the brake element (1) to a paper dispenser so as to apply a braking force with said braking surface (1a) on an end surface of a paper roll supported by the paper dispenser. A paper dispenser capable of receiving, and a paper dispenser comprising such a brake element (1) are also concerned.
